Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

6. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

7. Claims 1-6 and 8-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter because the claim(s) as a whole, considering all claim elements both individually and in combination, do not amount to significantly more than an abstract idea.

The claim(s) is/are directed to the abstract idea of:

- (i) a fundamental economic practice,
- (ii) a method of organizing human activities,
- (iii) an idea of itself, or
- (iv) a mathematical relationship or formula.

For instance, in Alice Corp. the court found that “intermediated settlement” was a fundamental economic practice, which is an abstract idea. The additional element(s) or combination of elements in the claim(s) other than the abstract idea per se amount(s) to no more than:

- (i) mere instructions to implement the idea on a computer, and/or
- (ii) recitation of generic computer structure that serves to perform generic computer functions that are well-understood, routine, and conventional activities previously known to the pertinent industry.

Viewed as a whole, these additional claim element(s) do not provide meaningful limitation(s) to transform the abstract idea into a patent eligible application of the abstract idea such that the claim(s) amounts to significantly more than the abstract idea itself. Therefore, the claim(s) are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as being directed to non-statutory subject matter. See Alice Corporation Pty. Ltd. v. CLS Bank International, et al.
